A MESSAGE FROM THE BOARD

Joseph E. Brion, Chairman

Robert S. Marcus,
Board Member

In an effort to provide our consumers and stakeholders valuable insight into our business, the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board is proud to present the 2011-2012 Retail Year in Review, our latest in-depth analysis of the agency's marketing and sales data. As you peruse this report, you will find detailed product sales information broken down by dollars and units, as well as by region, county and store to illustrate consumer tastes, product trends and opportunities for growth in Pennsylvania.

While the economy slowly improved in 2011-2012, sales at our stores grew significantly, reaching levels never seen before. Overall sales increased more than 6.7 percent compared to retail year (RY) 10 -11. We're proud of that growth because we believe it's a positive reflection of our focus on customer service and improving the consumers' experience.

In RY 11-12, spirits made up nearly 59 percent of total dollar sales statewide. By all measures, the most popular category continues to be vodka, making up more than 13 percent of all dollar sales at PA Wine & Spirits Stores. Several categories saw significant growth, including flavored vodkas and flavored whiskies.

While spirits made up the majority of our sales, wine did slightly improve its market share in RY 11-12 based on units sold. The most popular categories once again included chardonnay, cabernet and boxed wine. Illustrating that cost does matter when making purchasing decisions, the majority of wine consumers focused on domestic value-priced products.

As we begin RY 12-13, we assure you our commitment to our consumers will continue to be the focus of our efforts. Some of the initiatives underway include a rebranding of all of our stores to provide a world-class shopping experience for our consumers, continued data analysis to ensure we're providing the products consumers want and a renewed push to improve efficiencies within the agency to ultimately benefit the taxpayers of Pennsylvania.

The third edition of the Retail Year in Review (2011 – 2012) once again, seeks to present a user-friendly, approachable and educational view of the retail business of the PA Wine & Spirits Stores. This report has been shaped, over time, by reports from control states, the beverage alcohol industry and feedback from experts. Data was collected through the point of sales system (POS), stored in the data warehouse and extracted through Oracle BI.

A number of filters were used to pull data. Report filters include the retail year end date of 7/1/2012. Due to the leap year, the current year has 53 weeks of sales. Special orders (SO) are not included in all reports. Gregorian calendars, beginning on the first of the month and ending on the final day of the calendar month, were used for certain reports to eliminate any inconsistencies of the “four-five-four” week retail calendar. Each analysis section contains specific details on filters.

Through the process of continual data management there have been changes to data structures and collation procedures. This has an impact on certain part of the data. Brand changes due to updates to items, additions and holiday codes, may create different totals between year to year reports. Therefore, the brand section contains four instances with different totals than previously published.

The Retail Year in Review is a compilation of reports and only a few calculations were performed for comparison purposes. The two calculations are year-to-year change and percentage share. Year-to-year change measures the increase or decrease in transactions, units or dollars between retail years. Percentage share calculates how much a category or county contributes to an overall total. Dollar sales amounts do include the standard mark up and the emergency tax. Sales tax (6%) is not included in the dollar sales amounts. Local taxes for Allegheny and Philadelphia are also not applied.

Please note the data in this report are unaudited and may vary from financial statements. The data may also vary from other beverage alcohol industry reports due to calendar date alignments, sorting techniques and filter criteria as well as data normalization. Further, within the past year a new point of sales system (POS) has been implemented. This can create differences in how data are compiled, processed and stored in the data warehouse. Through the process of continual data management there have been changes to data structures and collation procedures. This has an impact on certain pieces of data such as brand and price segment.

RETAIL YEAR SALES & SHARES

Retail year sales and shares provide an overview of dollars, units and transactions within the commonwealth. Over the past six years, there has been a steady increase in total sales for the PA Wine & Spirits Stores. Dollar sales for the end of the current retail year, on regular and luxury items, were $1,898,161,385. This represents a 6.76% increase from the previous year. Figure 1 summarizes the gains over the previous years. Please note, retail and licensee sales are included in this figure and special orders (SO) are not.

More specifically, there was a difference between the amount of wines and spirits sold. Table 1 illustrates that RY 2011 - 12 had a higher proportion of dollar sales for spirits or +17.94 points more than wine. The dollar shares of wine remained stable this year, despite a recent trend of gaining share.

STORE & COUNTY REPORTS

This section, of county and store reports, shows the differences by county, in terms of their proportion of category sales and their proportion of sales. Performance of individual sales is also presented.

At the county level, categories had different dollar sales amounts and proportions⁶. Overall, Allegheny ($243,529,821), Philadelphia ($218,749,412) and Montgomery ($184,300,452) counties had the highest dollar sales amounts. These counties also had the highest sales among each category. This is illustrated in Table 5⁷.

There is more detail when examining each county and the proportion of sales each category comprised. Figure 5 is a visual representation of the data. Table wines were more prevalent in the eastern part of the state. Proportionately, Chester (45.57%), Montgomery (44.76%) and Bucks (42.39%) counties had the most sales of Table Wine. Vodka was sold in greatest proportion in Philadelphia (23.16%), plus two western counties, Lawrence (22.60%) and Beaver (22.42%).

Rural counties trended towards Whiskey as Greene (31.22%), Forest (29.38%) and Sullivan (24.30%) had the highest proportion of sales. Rum sold proportionately higher in the middle of the state with Northumberland (17.28%), Mifflin (17.02%) and Perry (16.41%) counties ranking highest.

⁶A map of Pennsylvania, with PLCB Regions, is provided in Appendix A.

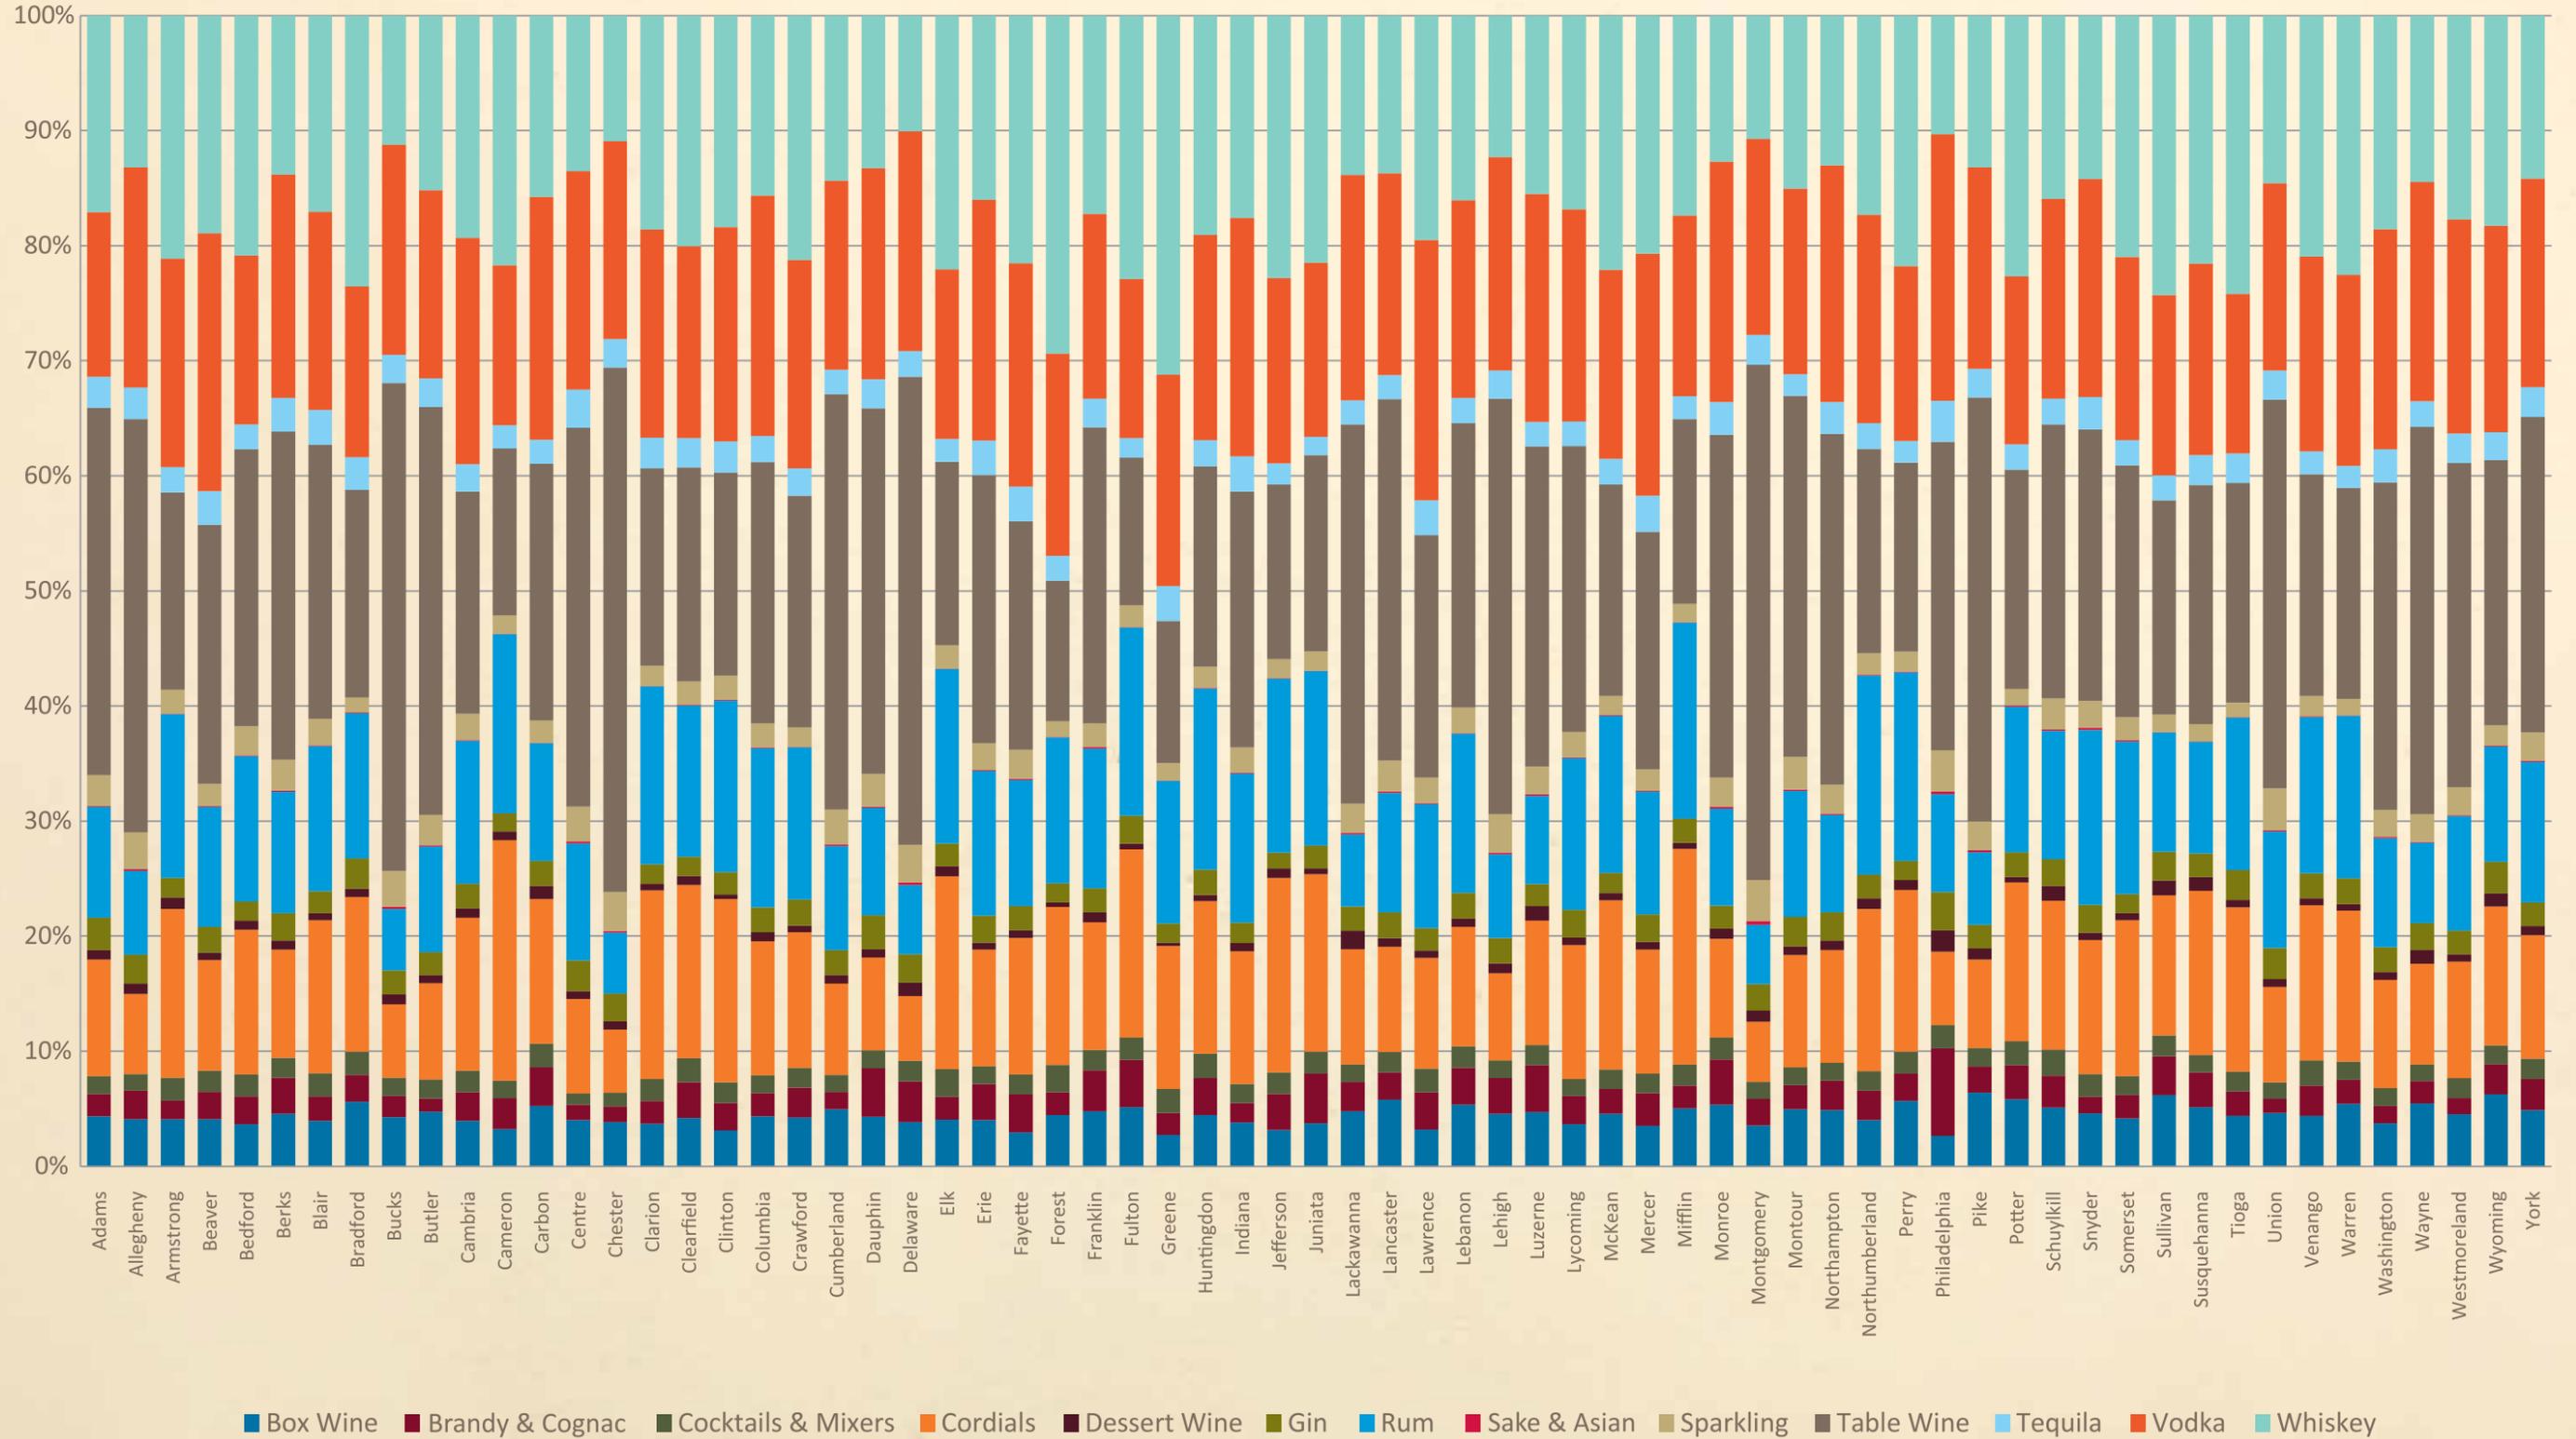

⁷Please note Table 5 does not include miscellaneous items and includes the following store types; Boutique (B), Conventional Store (CS) and Self-Service Store (SS). For purposes of consistency, the class Sake was added with subclass Asian. This represents all items that are Sake.

SPIRITS DETAILS

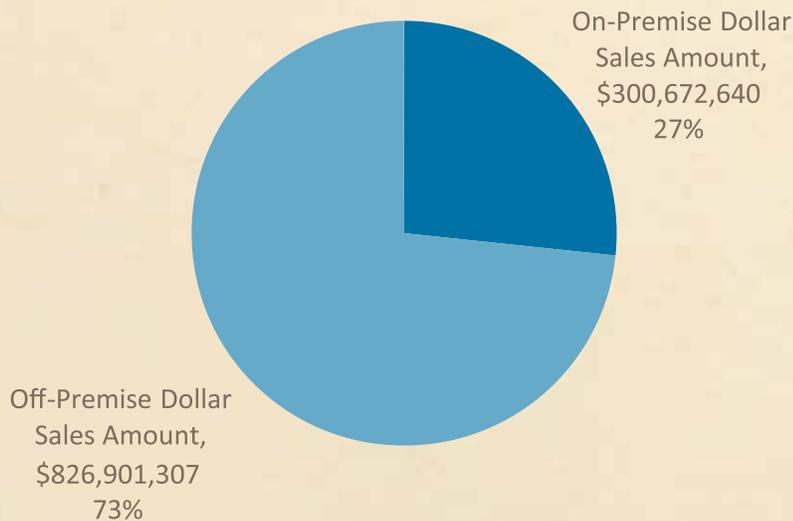

In this section, spirits will be examined more closely. By providing specifics on spirits details, the types of purchases, price segments, top items and trends can be display without comparison to wine. Figure 6 compares the on-premise and off-premise sales of spirits¹⁴. Off-premise sales (75%) were the larger portion of business¹⁵.

¹⁴For both the spirits and wine details sections the terms on-premise and off-premise are used. On-premise sales are those to licensees. The name is derived from the fact that beverage alcohol is consumed at the same place it is purchased. Off-premise is retail purchases made to shoppers to consume the product at home.

¹⁵Please note the reports in this section include regular, luxury and special order.

Figures 8 and 9 illustrate the performance of spirits by price segment in the previous retail year. During the previous year, the standard price segment had the most units (22,810,037) and premium had the most dollars ($403,800,877) sold of any price segment. Value had the second highest number of units sold (20,830,479). Standard had the second highest dollar sales amount ($314,634,675).

BUREAU OF MARKET & STORE ANALYTICS

The Bureau of Market & Store Analytics (BMSA) is the internal specialized market research group under the Department of Marketing and Merchandising at the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board (PLCB). BMSA has existed since April 2010 and its Mission is to provide reliable and timely information and data analysis to PLCB management and stakeholders to enable informed business decisions and facilitate business process improvement. These efforts help identify Fine Wine & Good Spirits customers and the products they buy, thus guiding development of new products and services and finding efficiencies for PLCB operations.

BMSA duties include gathering, analyzing and interpreting sales data from the PLCB Point of Sale systems as well as information about the wine and spirits retail industry. Always adopting industry best practices, or creating them, BMSA develops processes that are repeatable and measurable.

Other publications, such as the Retail Year in Review 2010-2011 and Retail Year in Review 2009-2010, can be found on the PLCB public website (www.lcb.state.pa.us) under About, Facts & Figures and Marketing Reports.
