

LOCAL OPTION REFERENDUM - As of Aug. 1, 2018

These are the cities, boroughs, townships, and incorporated towns in Pennsylvania (arranged alphabetically by county, borough, and township) that are dry or partially dry.

A year in one of the four columns to the left of the vertical grey bar indicates when the municipality was first voted to go dry for the kind of alcohol sales identified in the header (retail liquor, retail beer, wholesale malt beverage distributor, or FW&GS stores). If no year is shown, the municipality is wet for that category.

A date in one of the seven columns to the right of the vertical grey bar indicates when the otherwise dry municipality first voted to go wet for that type of license or permit.

For example, York Springs, Adams County, is dry for the issuance of retail liquor and retail beer licenses, but wet for malt beverage distributors and Fine Wine & Good Spirits stores. The vote to go dry for retail liquor licenses was held in 1937, and the vote to go dry for retail beer licenses was held in 1945. However, York Springs voted to allow the issuance of Special Occasion Permits in 1999.

If a municipality does not appear on this list, it is wet for all categories.
